Naxos is the largest island of the Cyclades.

The rare beauty and the particular topography make it the only island that does not look like the rest of the Cycladic complex.

The island combines the Cycladic beauty (blue waters, beautiful white houses, cobbled streets and picturesque neighborhoods) together with a touch of the Sporades and the Dodecanese islands, given that the dominating vegetation of the major two mountains, Za and Fanari incur the backbone of Naxos

The Old Town/Market

The old town of Chora Naxos hides a lot of the secrets of the old Naxos.

The old style houses, the little shops, the small tavernas and old style bakeries show the beauty and friendliness of the island. It is highly suggested that you go for a walk there.

Venetian Castle

The Venetian castle still remains one of the biggest "live" parts of the history of Naxos and Chora Naxos.

There are still people living in the Castle area. One of the most well known families still living there is the Venetian family.

Naxos Eye

The famous Naxos' Eye is a special stone that can only be found on the island of Naxos.

Created by the combination of the Greek sea, sun and other climatic conditions Naxos Eye remains one of the most beautiful stones in the world.

You can find it on jewels sold at jewellery shops on the island.
